The loss of the late of right records prior to 1881, prevents the establishment of the parentage of Richard Bennett, since there were several brothers here with little or no record from the preceding references to the family. It is found to be conceded that the Richard of late of right was a cousin of Rev. Richard Bennett. The oldest child of late of right, who died in 1790 was a young man in 1881, for a deed in deed bk. 1, p. 122 American Land which he bought of William Miller in 1880.

Dear Mrs. Chapman,

It was a pleasure to have your letter during the summer and the note included with it. I delayed answering it hoping that in the intervals of my drama study I might turn up something of interest. Now is the following:

Marriage License at the Faculty Office of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Publications of the Haldian Society vol. xxiv, page 116. Dec. 13, 1670 Charles Molloy of Lincoln Inn, Esq., Bach. 24 and Elizabeth Day, Spr. 19. her father dead; consent of her mother, now wife of Luke Cropley of parish of St. Peter the Poor, Gent.

That together with the lawsuit settles the matter. Elizabeth, 19 in 1670, was born 1651. Her mother was wife of a day then, - and the mother was wife of Luke Cropley in 1670, and still wife of Luke Cropley when Governor Richard Bennett made his mill. Mary, daughter (ah loosh coheir) of Edward Bennett, married first — Day, who died after 1651, second Thomas Bland who died between 1664 and 1668, third Luke Cropley in 1668 and was still living in 1700 when James Day made his mill.

You may recall the Bennett pedigree I sent you a year or so ago. A friend of mine who spent the summer in England arranged with Miss Redstone, a record searcher, to work for me. On my return I found a report from her on the Edward Bennetts in that pedigree.

The elder Edward Bennett was a merchant of New Fish Street and also a member of the company of Hamburg merchants. He made a will in London, Feb. 26, 1637/8, - and two codicils at Hamburg 22 and 24 of May, 1638. The widow Mirabella moved the will June 18, 1638, and the codicils November 2, 1638. The will was not on file but the codicils were. In the codicils he refers to a recent legacy from his uncle William Pennyfather, citizen and grocer of London. He leaves 5 pounds of it to maid servant Susanna Lackene, 5 pounds each to William Dangerfield and Henry Morley, officers of the fellowship of Merchant Adventurers residing in Hamburg,  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the residue to his wife Mirabella, and the other two thirds to be divided into 6 portions to son and heir Edward Bennett - 2 shares to my four children Elizabeth Whithead, Gratious Weather, Hannah Miteale, and Susannah Bole the other four shares.

Appoint<sup>surrey</sup> friend Joseph Avelin<sup>r</sup> to see to his burial if he dies in Hamburg.

The son, apparently a minor, was named co-executor

These items when put together indicate that there

An Edward Bennett who had written a pamphlet on tobacco was admitted to membership in the London Company in 1620 or 1621. In the latter year he and proved them again 1641-2. But according to that pedigree of 1634 the younger Edward Bennett was then married to Mary Lowe. There seems some confusion here.

Mirabella Bennett made her will on February 26, 1638. There were some codicils in 1639 - everything proved April 19, 1639.

I have somewhere notes about John James Jackson taken from N & M & or Va. Mag. showing that he had two wives but died without issue. My recollection is that one wife was a widow connected somehow with the Allen. I cannot find the notes now, when I run across them I will send them. Perhaps you can run them down from the Virginia Index if it has got to J. I handled it last summer but forgot how far it goes.

Thanks very much for the note concerning the Bussis in Elizabeth City County. I had at first thought that the Francis Bussie who went to Lunenburg belonged to the D & M family, but when I got the birth record of Bussie Parish and the Quaker marriages in D & M I found that the dates did not fit. The Francis Bussie in D & M I took to be the father did not marry until 1713 - and the other Francis had children early in the 1720's. Elizabeth City records may explain things. When you go to E. C. I will thank you to make connection with some one there who will make nearer search if the connection isn't easily was given the first grant of land made by the company. From the records of the company I find that he owned a ship called The Gods Gift. Evidently he was a man of substance. What his later history was I do not know. He lived contemporaneously with the Hamburg merchants Edward Bennett and there were other men of the same name during those years.

Judging from the Virginia Council records the Edward Bennett who owned land in Isle of Wight County had brothers Robert and Richard, and according to the letter printed by Boddie lived in Bartholomew Lane. That is not in the parish of St. Peter the Poor was next door to it as I find from Storie's Survey of London. This Edward Bennett seems to have been the father of an Edward Bennett who married Mary, the daughter of Jasper Bourne, lived in the parish of St. Peter the Poor and had the children baptized in St. Olave's church and also our Mary Bennett Day Bland Cropley. I accept the Bourne probability because the name Simonds for women occurs three times in the Bourne pedigree and the son was named Jasper Bennett.

I have written this contribution to Miss Redstone as a guide for her investigations. We shall have to wait and see what she turns up. I hope she found as you go through the records for yourself. Of course if you had time to do it, I'd be glad for you to do it professionally. But you may not have the time.

The Richard Good troubles me. I have the uncomfortable feeling that I saw over it in Cumberland or Groveland before I knew it had any connection with the problem I was working on. I got the connection almost at the last minute. Well, that will be a job for next summer.

I had a very pleasant summer in New York, working steadily on the dragon problem. I can't know the significance of the work is, I won't know until I bring all the notes together later.

Cordially yours,

Rupert Taylor
